The Post Office Dept. at Washington is the largest single governmental establishment in the world. Some idea of the immensity of its business may be gleaned from the fact that its distribution of stamped envelopes, newspaper wrappers, and postal cards to Post Offices throughout the country is upward of eleven billion pieces annually, and that it costs half a million dollars a year to keep its mail bag department in proper condition. More than half of all the employees of the Government are at work under the direction of the Postmaster General, whose office is in the building pictured. Herein is also the Dead Letter Office, to which is annually returned about 30,000,000 pieces of undeliverable mail and Post Cards, 62 per cent of which are returned to sender or forwarded to addressee.

CATHEDRAL OF ST. JOHN, THE DIVINE.

This magnificent building is expected to cost $10,000,000 before it is completed. It probably is the finest and best located cathedral in the world. The site is 250 feet above mean-tide, and the building 445 feet above its foundations will be visible 25 miles away.
